

BAMA Kids, Inc.

BAMA Kids, Inc. developed in 1993 from a group of volunteers that had been involved with Auburn University at Montgomery's W.K. Kellogg Project and the Extension System's Youth at Risk" Council; as well as a group of citizens who were concerned about juvenile offenders and other youth in the community. Efforts were underway by all three groups to serve at-risk youth in Wilcox County. The catalyst was the killing of a nineteen year old, by the store owner, during an alleged robbery. The result was a coalition for youth development in Wilcox County, which continues today.

BAMA Kids, Inc. has been designated a 501c3 organization by the Internal Revenue Service
